

JOSH SINBAD COLLINS RESUME

Josh graduated with a first class honors in theatrical design from Central St Martins school of Art and Design and promptly dived head first into the low budget B-Movie and night club world running RHB Exotic Entertainment.

Mixing animation and live action and adapting influences as diverse as 60s children's TV to Fellini, a series of shorts, many music videos and one feature were produced out of a London warehouse which he shared with Toe Rag Studios (White Stripes-Elephant).

Experimenting with a variety of film mediums, super 8, standard 8, single 8, 16mm, super16, 35mm this was bringing a heavy dose of pop art to the screen.

The films were often incorporated into extravagant live events and vice versa, including quite a few collaborations with acclaimed Australian artiste Leigh Bowery, legendary Musicians Billy Childish, the Cramps, The Trashmen, The Mummies, The 5,6,7,8's, The Monks (yes THE MONKS) and film impresario Ray Denis Steckler.

Most of these films were shown on the BBC at various times (resulting in outraged viewers) and also released on VHS/DVD by Screen Edge in the UK and on Dionysus films in the USA.

PERVIRELLA

Rpg.net - it's better than Jesus Christ Vampire Hunter and possibly Flesh Gordon

ICPS - Barbarella as if directed by Terry Gilliam with 2 dollars.

Darkside-A sleaze epic

Imdb.com - Monty Python gone berserk.
